

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY FORT WAYNE (IPFW)
STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY/NEOTECTONICS/APPLIED GEOPHYSICS

IPFW seeks to fill a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in structural geology/neotectonics/applied geophysics. The successful applicant for the position will have a Ph.D. and be expected to share with other faculty responsibilities for teaching introductory geology, introductory planetary geology, introductory climatology, and regional field geology. Over a multi-year cycle, the successful applicant will teach additional courses in his/her specialty, including structural geology and geomorphology. Familiarity and experience with GIS will be a plus. Geosciences faculty are expected to maintain an active research program and to involve undergraduate students in research. IPFW's geology research program is well-supported in both equipment (e.g. thin section lab, SEM, XRD) and opportunities for new faculty.

There are four other full-time faculty in the department. IPFW is a comprehensive university. Send a letter of application, statement of teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, copies of transcripts, and the names and contact information for three references to: Prof. J. Farlow, Search Committee Chair, Department of Geosciences, Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne, 2101 East Coliseum Boulevard, Fort Wayne, IN 46805. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2007. IPFW is an equal opportunity, equal access, affirmative action university.
